

On April 14/15 and 21/22 the south side was lined with volunteers wearing orange safety vests, carrying white donation buckets and spreading the word about Park Lawn. It was the organization's annual Tag Day fund raiser which is held each April. Volunteers are recruited to collect donations in front of stores and on street corners. Local schools are asked to conduct an in-school tag day to raise money. Clubs and organizations recruited members to donate their time. Due to the efforts of many, Park Lawn's annual Tag Day was a success raising close to $70,000, all of which will benefit individuals with developmental disabilities enrolled in Park Lawn's programs.
